GENERAL ECONOMIC ENGLISH

Week 15: Comprehensive Revision and Integrated Economic English

1. Main Academic Text & Core Concepts

This final module consolidates all linguistic, conceptual, and communicative competencies acquired throughout the 15-week General Economic English course. Students review the interconnectedness of core economic disciplines—from fundamental scarcity and market supply/demand mechanisms to complex macroeconomics, monetary banking, trade globalization, and digital marketing.

Integrated language mastery requires deploying economic terminology fluently across all four skills: Reading authentic business reports, Listening to economic news, Speaking in formal presentation contexts, and Writing structured academic essays and data descriptions.

As students prepare for final assessments and future specialized courses, mastery of English serves as an indispensable bridge connecting economic theory with global business practice. Reviewing key grammar frameworks in economic context ensures clear, precise academic communication.

2. Key Terminology & Academic Definitions

Synthesis	Noun	The combination of ideas or concepts into a complex, coherent whole.
Consolidation	Noun	The process of reinforcing and solidifying learned skills and knowledge.
Microeconomics	Noun	Study of individual economic units, households, firms, and market equilibrium.
Macroeconomics	Noun	Study of aggregate national economic indicators, inflation, GDP, and employment.
International Trade	Noun	Cross-border exchange of goods, services, capital, and global integration.
Data Description	Noun	Written analysis of quantitative trends presented in charts and tables.
Competency	Noun	The demonstrated ability to apply knowledge and skills effectively.

3. Language Focus: Integrated Academic English Grammar Review

Tense Mastery: Use Present Simple for definitions, Present Continuous for current trends, Past Simple for historical events, and Present Perfect for ongoing macro changes.

Passive Voice Consolidation: Deploy passive structures in policy, production, and formal trade reporting.

Cohesion & Complex Connectors: Synthesize paragraphs using 'Furthermore', 'Notwithstanding', 'In contrast', 'Consequently'.